

Debbie and Keith Myers, and their children Boyden and Baillie, are West Virginians serving in Central Mexico.

They were appointed by International Ministries ABC/USA in 2012. The Myers are partnering with the Council of Rural Indigenous Evangelicals of Mexico, AR (CICEM) to provide pastoral accompaniment to the indigenous churches.

This training consists of training pastors, church leaders, youth leaders and teachers for the children. They travel to six different areas outside of Puebla to serve and empower the people. Keith and Debbie will be your missionary leaders as you live and work with indigenous families of Sierra Norte.

You will experience first - hand life in a mountain village and will work alongside families as they move through housework, family and community life and work. Participants will also be sharing their faith and in ministry to others in the village.

This trip is for those who are comfortable in a village setting, who can cope with language barriers, who enjoy sharing their faith with others and are seeking to spread the love of God through word and deed. Participants must be flexible in personality and willing to move out of their comfort zone.

Participants will be required to attend pre-trip meetings (dates & location arranged together) and finish pre-trip preparation material (provided by the leader).
